Three months..... The Bechtel Dollar.

Six months.....

Previous to the dissovery of gold in Califor. nia the States of North Carolina, Georgia and Virginia attracted great attention on account of their gold deposits. In 1830, when gold began to be developed in these States, three denominations of coin-ten, five and two and a half dollars pieces-were struck, bearing the name of Templeton Reed, assayer, and the designation Georgia gold. On two occasions they were brought to the mint in this city, but not since 1831. Their use was soon discontinued, and probably by this time are forgotten even at

In the next year a private institution, known as Bechtel's Mint, was located at Rutherford. ton, N. C. The coin there turned out circulated freely in the South and West, but were rarely seen north of Washington. Two series of coin were issued from the Bechtel Mint; the first bearing no date, but issued earlier than 1834,cf the denominations of $5, $2.50 and $1, professedly 20 karats fine. The second series bore the date of 1834. The denominations were the same, but there were three grades of fineness and weight; thus at 20 karats the $5 pieces were to weigh 140 grains, the same at 21 karats were to weigh 134 grains and at 22 karats to weight 128 grains. These dollars have become very scarce, and are, therefore, highly prized by numismatis's, as no collection of the coins of the country is complete without a specimen. The Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia has been presented with a series of the Bechtel dollars and half dollars .- Phila, Record. A BOSTON INCIDENT, -Olive Logan writes from London:-Mrs. B. is a handsome young American woman, an ardent evangelical Christian, who, in the sense religious, deems that day lost whose low, descending sun sees from her hand no worthy action done. The idea of preaching Christianity to the moral dregs of communities has for some time been a favorite one with my friend. Some years ago she was one of a group of philanthropic ladies who organized a series of visits to be paid to the most flourishing zananas of Boston, with the intention of rescuing the inmates from the life of hell they were leading by reminding them that the Bible promises heaven to sinners who repent-after death, of course. For the immediate period of time there was no reward whatever proposed by the ladies, and it was this utterly worldly consideration to which Mrs. B. attributes the callous and godless reception accorded them at the first and only house they visited.

The matter had made some discussion in the newspapers, and, in reply to a note sent by Mrs. B. to the mistress of one of these places, an answer came, not ill written, fixing a time when the visit should be received. The ladies armed themselves with their Bibles and prayer books, walked courageously to the house, and were shown into the parlor by a grinning negress. They were kept waiting sometime, and, to beguile the moments and to expreise the evil demons of the place, they sang hymns. Presently the door opened, and in walked the inhabitants of the house in Indian file and scaled themselves gravely on the various chairs and sofar of the spartment. One hopped, Letta-like, on to the centre table and swung her legs. Their state of mind relative to a conversion to Christianity was the roughly and well indicated by their state of body. Every one of the lost creatures was in puris na turalibus and to add to the mockery of their con dition each had her hair dressed most claborate ly with wreaths of flowers and hanging curls. and nedding plames. Dismayed and shooked beyond expression, the ladies arose and left without striking the blow of a single word.

HOW A WOMAN TRIES ON NEW SHOES .-When a woman has a new pair of shoes sent home she performs altogether differently from a man. She never shoves her toes into them and yanks and hauls until she is red in the face and all out of breath, and then goes stamping and kicking around, but carefully pulls them on part way, twitches them off again to take a last look and see if she has got the right one, pulls them on again, looks at them dremity, sayathey are just right, then takes another look, stone suddenly to smooth out a swinkle, twists around and surveys them sideways, and exclaims, "Mercy! how loose they are!" looks at their again square in front, works ner foot around so they won't hurt quite so much, takes them off, looks at the heef, the toe, the bottom and the inside, puts them on again, walks up and down the room once or twice, remarks to her better half that she won't have them at any price, tiles down the mirror so she can see how they look, tures in every possible direction, and nearly dislocates her neck trying to see how they lo k from that way, backs off, steps up again, takethirty or forty farewell looks, says they make her feet look awful big and never will do in the world, puts them off and on three or four times more, asks her husband what he thinks about it, and thee pays no attention to what he says, goes over it all again, and finally says she will take them. It's a very simple matter, indeed. For fine Clothing see Dealham, 62 King street, corner of Fairfax. PREPARE FOR THE COLD BLASTS OF WINTER. Call on STANSBURY & BRO, and have your Latrobes, Furnaces, Ranges and Stoves put in order, or procure new ones, at prices to suit the times, at the corner of King and Columbus
